A Note from Administration

As we continue our MISSION this year, all things will continue to be POSSIBLE!
A note for you:

Dear BridgePrep Families,

Right at a crucial moment in our year of learning, it seemed the world exploded with a virus that swiftly disconnected our world. One by one, cities, schools, businesses; all seemed to shut down to protect the people. As we all prepared for Spring Break, our Friday turned into a mad dash to get as much information home with students as we could. Everyone- from BridgePrep to you, the parents- took this mad dash and turned it into a unified meeting-of-the-minds; coming together to bring as much normalcy to the situation as we could.

We are choosing to focus on as much positivity as we can while we all learn and navigate our way through the world of remote-schooling. As such, we are reaching out to you for your continued patience and understanding as week by week, our teachers and staff continue to provide your children with as much of their typical education as they can.

We are all (including you) working hard to adjust to this ever-growing situation as we navigate unfamiliar and frankly, completely unusual, territory. We are all in this together. We understand and hear you. We are sympathetic to your family situations. As we continue to discover, learn, and practice this remote teaching and learning style, please continue to be patient with us; help us help you; learn with us; and discover with us.

In an effort to maintain a virtual safe learning environment, here are a few suggestions for our students and families:

- Please wear your BridgePrep uniform shirt or appropriate attire. Please no pajamas during live chats.
- Please remember that these live chats are your child's classroom. Students should not be eating, playing, running around the house, etc.. during their scheduled "class time".
- We know many of you are working from home, but please try to not hold phone conversations during your child's live chat. They can be heard by all.
- Please encourage your child to work as independently as they can.
- Most importantly: please communicate with your child's teacher(s) as often as possible via Dojo, email, or phone. Keeping the teacher up-to-date with your child's learning is the best way to promote a good learning environment.
- Remember to access the school website often as homework, videos, updates, learning resources, etc.; can be found. <https://www.bridgeprepriverview.com/apps/staff/>

We appreciate you. We miss our students! Thank you for your continued support and patience throughout this process.

9 tips for parents whose children are now learning at home because of Coronavirus

1. Limit distraction

You should limit their use of their devices, other than what is needed to complete their work, until their schoolwork is done.

2. Make space for learning

Your children will achieve their best work in a quiet, comfortable, and dedicated space that is strictly devoted to learning.

3. Maintain breaks such as snack time and recess

Children will function best if they maintain their routine as close to normal as possible.

4. Allow them to interact with friends via video chats

Video chats are often the closest thing to seeing someone in person

5. Mix screen time with old school learning mediums

As much as possible, parents should encourage print and book reading and, if possible, request textbooks from your child's school.

6. Keep in touch with other parents

Social distancing is important during this time but staying in touch with others via virtual communication is very important.

7. Don't underestimate the power of a schedule

A schedule, for your work and your child's work, is extremely important.

8. Don't let your children treat this as a vacation

This time at home might feel like a vacation for your child, but it's important to remind them that their education still comes first. Obligations like class assignments, grades, tests, state exams, SATs, and ACTs aren't going away just because classes have moved online.

9. Remember to schedule time for fun

While this is most certainly not a vacation, it's important to have some fun with your children while they are at home. It's rare that you have this much time with your children, so use it as an opportunity to bond.
